DIY "SPACE" CRAYONS

Coloring time becomes much more fun when you use sparkling crayons in heavenly forms. Plus, you create them out of the ends of old crayons that no one wants to color with in the first place!

1. Collect a set of vintage crayons. If you want to create galaxy crayons, you should use dark colors. Take away all of the paper jackets. If you're having trouble taking them off, soak them first in the water.

2. Using your silicon mold/muffin pan, break the crayons into pieces. I chose single colors, but you may use a variety of colors if you want.

3. Get some glitter on your hands. The best glitter to use is superfine glitter.

4. Fill your tin/mold with glitter. (Please don't use your most expensive muffin tin.)

5. Place your mold in the oven to bake. I heated mine to 140°C, and the crayons melted in approximately 5 minutes. I suggest that you keep an eye on your crayons at all times and remove them as soon as they have melted. If you keep them in for too long, they will get stinky and smokey.

6. Remove the mold/tray from the oven and set it aside to cool. Put them in the fridge if you're impatient like me. Before trying to take them from the mold, be sure they have fully set. (My handmade crayons were destroyed by my impatience!!!)

YOU WILL NEED:

- Tray/ Silicon Mold
- Vintage Crayons
- Glitter

DIY FELT ELASTIC BOOKMARKS

They may even be inspired to read more with these adorable bookmarks. With some felt, glue, and elastic, you can make them in no time.

TO MAKE THESE DIY BOOKMARKS, YOU'LL NEED:

- scissors
- felt scraps - red, black, yellow, purple, pink, blue, white
- white school glue
- elastic tape (optional)
- small googly eyes (optional)
- hot glue gun and glue sticks

Cut the shapes out. Tape the pattern piece to the shape before cutting. Glue everything in place. Allow the school glue to dry after gluing the parts together.

Cut a 16-inch-long length of elastic. Cut a rectangle of felt to fit around the bug's back.

The younger ones will need assistance with a hot glue gun for this part. Wrap the elastic in the manner shown in the picture below.

Glue the rectangle of felt over the elastic to cover the ends.

DIRECTION:

First, have the youngsters use the templates to cut out the shapes. Then, tape the pattern piece to the shape before cutting. Glue everything in place. Allow the school glue to dry after gluing the parts together.

That's it!!

The girls decided it would be fun to use them as headbands as well. Haha! It's probably an excellent location to store it while you are reading.
